Per Greg and Tara Jollie the City of Adak can receive an immediate disbursement of $103,068 as their municipal revenue sharing payment if they would just properly adopt their budget in a public meeting.

Would you suggest a kind letter from Ms. Jollie to the Mayor of Adak reminding him of this fact? If all or part of these funds were used to pay the fuel bill, Aleut Corporation may deliver fuel for the city to use again.

Good morning Randy. Below is information provided by DCRA Director Tara Jollie regarding their revenue sharing:

"The City filed copies of their adopted budget and CFS in order to qualify for their Community Revenue Sharing. Upon examination it was noted that they did not follow either their ordinances or state statues in adopting the budget ordinance. They introduced it, scheduled a public hearing 3 days later, then adopted it even before the public hearing. One of the biggest criticisms of the city is that they do things without informing the public. This seems to follow along those lines. Once they properly adopt their annual budget, they would be eligible for immediate disbursement of $103,068 from revenue sharing. In addition they would be eligible for $14,912.03 in PILT funds when PILT comes available on Oct. 15th."

To Whom It May Concern:

I've made repeated attempt to get a copy of an investigation of ATM Bank fraud.
By certified Mail and emails to the Officers Shanigan and Guymon. I did not get any responses to my requests after 2 weeks.
On 9/9/2008 I tried in person. I was told to contact you.

I would like a copy of your report:
Report on Edward Cheeks investigation of ATM fraud of Keith Moyer's Key Bank account.
Investigation was conducted around 6/7/07.
Please let me know what is needed to receive a copy of this report.

It's been months I tried to get this report and for the last 3 week have made numerous attempts.
I believe the Troopers are with holding this report. I have court documents, there are recordings of Mr. Cheeks stating he did not have POA and used my ATM card after that point 6 times. We have videos.
What do I have to do to get this report? Why is no one in the Trooper Office not willing to answer my request?

Governor and Mike,

Mike as we discussed yesterday, Kyle Hopkins ADN was trying to reach me to ask "how is state government running while the governor's on the campaign trail?"

I talked with Kyle this morning and told him it was business as usual. Nothing has changed and I didn't expect it to. The Governor is like the CEO of a large company. She appropriately delegates her goals to the commissioners and we are accountable for getting the goals accomplished. It is normal business.

He asked how it works with her traveling. I said there is no difference. For example Alaska is a large state and if communications are needed phones and email work just fine. She can be in Juneau and I can be in Barrow and when necessary we communicate. The Governor also has a Chief of Staff who communicates with the Governor on a daily basis and then passes on any information to the appropriate commissioners. The Governor is engaged and in charge.

He asked if I had communicated with the Governor. I told him yes, she had inquired how the gasline work was going and is there anything she needed to do to help.

He asked what I said. I told Kyle that I thanked the Governor for asking, that all is well, that we were all busy, that we continue to be asked questions about AGIA. I reminded Kyle that because of the Governor's open, transparent process it is easy to answer AGIA questions since all of the AGIA findings were posted on the web site for the public to see.

I also informed the Governor that the initial results from the Kenai River regulations she approved were successful. The hydrocarbon levels had been reduced from a high of 23 ppm in the past to under the standard of 10 ppm.

He asked if I had communicated by phone or email. I told him it was by email.

He asked what I was doing right then. I told him I was attending the Governor's sub-cabinet meeting on climate change.

He thanked me and we were done. Probably a 3 to 4 minute call.

Randy,
Within 2 weeks, Revenue will be dispersing payments for the fisheries business tax collected in 2007. Adak's ballpark will be 250,000. Payments are based on tax collected, not tax owed, so any problem collecting the tax reduces the share to communities. I don't believe that affects this year's payment; it may reduce next year's if Revenue is unsuccessful in addressing the problems they've identified.

As an aside, I met with Bowles last week. Nothing new... We're working through ACES reg issues, and making good progress. We're finding that many of the oil company complaints about ACES are based on a myth that we're going to interpret the statute in a way to screw them. We're slowly earning their trust.

Federal Trade Commission, Department of Justice Issue Joint Statement on Certificate-of-Need Laws in Illinois

Agencies Say CON Laws Undercut Consumer Choice, Stifle Innovation and Weaken Markets' Ability to Contain Health Care Costs

In a joint statement to the Illinois Task Force on Health Planning Reform, the Federal Trade Commission and Department of Justice (DOJ) stated the agencies' position regarding certificate-of-need (CON) laws, saying that the laws undercut consumer choice, stifle innovation and weaken markets' ability to contain health care costs. Today's statement reiterates the agencies' ongoing efforts to promote competition in health care.

State CON programs generally prevent firms from entering certain areas of the health care market unless they can demonstrate to state authorities that there is an unmet need for their services. The task force is considering eliminating or amending Illinois' CON requirements. The agencies were asked by the task force to present their views at a meeting to be held in Chicago on Sept. 15, 2008.

FTC Chairman William Kovacic underscored the importance of health care competition, stating that, "The health care industry provides us all with fundamental services at significant and vulnerable times. Vigorous competition can promote greater access to cost-effective, high-quality health care."

In the joint statement, the agencies said that CON laws impede the efficient performance of health care markets by creating barriers to entry and expansion, to the detriment of health care competition and consumers. The statement describes economic research on the effects of CON laws, as well as some of the risks that CON laws can entail. For example, in addition to limiting entry, CON laws create opportunities for existing competitors to exploit the CON process to thwart or delay new competition; they can facilitate anticompetitive agreements among providers; and the CON process itself may be susceptible to corruption.

"The Antitrust Division is committed to providing guidance on how to promote competition in the health care industry," said Thomas O. Barnett, Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Department's Antitrust Division. "Competition in this important industry benefits consumers by offering lower prices and better quality services."

The joint statement also evaluates several arguments in support of CON laws, noting that the original cost-control reasons for CON laws no longer apply and that CON laws are an ineffective means to fund indigent care. For these reasons, the agencies encourage members of the Illinois task force – as well as officials in other states that continue to require certificates of need – to consider whether such laws do more harm than good.

Today's statement is based on the agencies' extensive experience with CON laws. The agencies jointly conducted hearings on issues in health care competition, including CON laws, in 2003; those hearings, and related research, led to a 2004 report, Improving Health Care: A Dose of Competition, which observed that, "on balance, CON programs are not successful in containing health care costs, and that they pose serious anticompetitive risks that usually outweigh their purported economic benefits." Today's statement is based on that report and more recent economic studies. Recently, the agencies have provided similar statements to the General Assembly and the Senate of the state of Georgia; the Committee on Health, Education and Social Services of the Alaska House of Representatives; and the Florida Senate Committee on Health and Human Services Appropriations.

The Commission vote approving the joint statement was 4-0.
Copies of the joint testimony are available from the FTC's Web site at http://www.ftc.gov and the FTC's Consumer Response Center, Room 130, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580. The FTC's Bureau of Competition works with the Bureau of Economics to investigate alleged anticompetitive business practices and, when appropriate, recommends that the Commission take law enforcement action. Honorable Governor Sarah Palin:

Graduations!
I am a parent of an individual with Down syndrome - my son Jaron is 28 years old (Poster shows Jaron with radio celebrity "Denise Koch").

I am also serving my 22nd year as Race Director and would LOVE to have you make a very brief whistle stop (know how busy you will be).

The run/walk occurs on Sunday September 28th - 8:50 A.M. the air horn goes off! We use to shut-down a runway - stopped after 9-11.

Before the event we have family/volunteer Friday night September 26th at the Embassy Suites Hotel, Linthicum, Md near the BWI Airport (410-850-0747).

We attract an estimated 800 to 1,000 mid-school children - competing for the "School Challenge Award" - you see two schools receive 250 round train trips onboard MARC train from BWI to Union Station, Washington, DC.

I am so excited about your nomination. (I am a conservative and proud of it!)
Please, Please consider either attending our family night event (Friday -September 26th 6:30 to 10:00 p.m.) or begin our run/walk event on Sunday September 28th 8:30 a.m. Oh, we also hold late registration on Saturday September 27th from 2:00 p.m to 5:00 p.m.

This event benefits Children with Down syndrome, Kennedy Krieger DS Clinic, Baltimore City, Md, Chesapeake DS Parent Support Group and Howard County Resource Group.

PLEASE, PLEASE Consider this invitation - Parent and Children who Support DS will be forever be grateful.
Thank you in advance.

Governor,

Bill has come up with a policy for how we will handle these requests, if you concur. His idea is in the e-mail below.

That is, a policy on questions from citizens, vs. media? No, there isn't one. Here's what I'd say: Anything from a citizen that can be answered promptly or referred to the proper authority, we'll handle. Anything extravagant requested from a non-Alaska resident, requiring labor-intensive research, we must politely decline to provide. If it's an Alaska citizen, we'll try to get it eventually, but won't make promises on timing. How's that?

Yes – we can take care of this individual request. But see the Governor's question at the bottom of the e-mail. She wants to know if the press office has set a policy on how to handle random questions like this.

Governor,

It's great to hear from you! There are very few anti's griping within Alaska, but the national media is getting their first taste of AGIA and they WANT it to be wrong somehow. First, the New York Times wrote that the gasline is no sure thing, quoting Bert and Lyda as recent converts against it ("We're shocked that TC demands $500 million from the state!"), acting as if you had said the gas was practically flowing right now. Recently, we hear that a Newsweek reporter wants to "blow the lid" off the real story that everybody knows we'll never get through Canada, and AGIA was all a ruse to get you to the White House.

We'll continue to spread the truth, and explain the ongoing battle with the Producers.

We know you're letting people around the country know about what Alaska has to offer. Thank you.

I hear that Exxon is attending the Monegan hearing(s)? That's odd.

You asked me to fill out a request for a report that everyone has reused to give me information on.
1. I started filed a complaint.
2. I do not have a case number because Shanigan refused to give me one.
3. I've mailed request by email, certified mail and no one will assist me.

Offer Shanigan contacted me at Wildwood around 6/07/07 and 6/8/08.

I know why everyone doesn't want me to have the report. The question is do you want to be a part of the cover up?
AS11.16.110, AS1156.770 and AS11.56.780 one of these may apply in this case to the Officer involved in this matter?

Now you ask me to fill out a request from without information IE Case Number and questions that would be answered by reading the report.
So I believe this is just another stall tactic. Because you are asking question I can't answer.
So what would you have me do?

Per Greg and Tara Jollie the City of Adak can receive an immediate disbursement of $103,068 as their municipal revenue sharing payment if they would just properly adopt their budget in a public meeting.

Would you suggest a kind letter from Ms. Jollie to the Mayor of Adak reminding him of this fact? If all or part of these funds were used to pay the fuel bill, Aleut Corporation may deliver fuel for the city to use again.

Good morning Randy. Below is information provided by DCRA Director Tara Jollie regarding their revenue sharing:

"The City filed copies of their adopted budget and CFS in order to qualify for their Community Revenue Sharing. Upon examination it was noted that they did not follow either their ordinances or state statues in adopting the budget ordinance. They introduced it, scheduled a public hearing 3 days later, then adopted it even before the public hearing. One of the biggest criticisms of the city is that they do things without informing the public. This seems to follow along those lines. Once they properly adopt their annual budget, they would be eligible for immediate disbursement of $103,068 from revenue sharing. In addition they would be eligible for $14,912.03 in PILT funds when PILT comes available on Oct. 15th."
